

Benefits of Membership

Provide common platform for construction product sector

- Opportunities for different product groups to interact
- Plan together and undertake action
- Present coordinated plans and strategies

In this, CCPS

- Takes inputs from members and others
- Conducts independent research and develop databases
- Offers analytical services
- Communicates benefits and promotes improvements

To facilitate interaction and exchange between the product sector and the

- government
- construction professionals
- the consumer

Products Standards and Code of Practice – CCPS is committed to

- Making, updating and promoting standards
- Developing code of practice (relevant to Indian condition)
- Correct use of products

Training of workers / professionals

- CCPS believes that a widespread training program that can successfully upgrade skill levels of workers and professionals
- Contributes to the personal development, benefits everyone.
- You as a leading precast company, of course benefits if your products are installed / used well;
- The consumer benefits because they get better value for the money;
- and the workers benefits because better skills can translate into, direct economic benefits as well as improved status in the society

Standardisation and pre-assembly

- CCPS is already working towards the use of standard sized and dimensionally coordinated products, as well as pre-assembled and pre-fabricated components.
 - We believe, it is a proven way to increase efficiency and quality and reduce construction time on site.
 - CCPS works to identify products or technologies that can be potentially pre-assembled and pre-fabricated, and promotes awareness regarding the benefits of standardisation
-